Vice President's Message

There is so much scholastics going on right now that ACF is publishing this supplemental newsletter. It's exciting to see the number of competitions and competitors which are a reflection of how much energy is going into Alabama scholastic chess!

Please keep checking the ACF website www.alabamachess.com for tournament information and flyers (posted via the "Calendar"). If you are planning a tournament, please send in your flyer for posting on the website. A big thank you to ACF's Ken Goodman for keeping this website updated.

As usual, we will have our semiannual meeting at the Queen of Hearts tournament. ACF President, Bill Saviou, is unable to attend the meeting, so I will preside. An agenda is provided below. Hope you can make it!

Sincerely,

Matt

Rocking Rooks January 20, 2007

By Matt and Susan Adams

Advent Episcopal School in downtown Birmingham hosted the 2007 Rocking Rooks chess tournament on Saturday, January 20. Seventy-four players, ranging from high school seniors to as young as four, competed for trophies and point standings in the United States Chess Federation in this five round tournament. Players came from many local area schools as well as a number of players who traveled from as far as Huntsville and Tuscaloosa.

Local UAB professor Dr. Ken Sloan served as the chief tournament director for this event. Assisting Dr. Sloan were floor directors Cal Bomar and Luke Hellwig. The tournament organizer was Matt Adams, Vice President of the Alabama Chess Federation. Mrs. Peggy Miller, Advent teacher and sponsor of the school's chess team, served as hostess of the event. She, along with a dedicated cadre of supportive parents and volunteers, brought together a day of fun and challenging chess play for all who participated. The tournament was held in Clingman Commons, a grand hall of the school's adjoining Cathedral Church of the Advent. A room rich with ornate hardwoods and heritage, combined with open vaulted ceilings, provided the noble atmosphere to one of our oldest and most challenging games.

Rookie Rally February 3, 2007

By Jim Weiner

The third annual Rookie Rally was held on a cold Saturday, Feb. 3, 2007 at Blossomwood Elementary in Huntsville. With 131 players, this tied last year's excellent turnout. This was probably chief organizer Barbara Bozeman's last Blossomwood event (son Scott is moving up to middle school), and she amply succeeded in going out with a bang.

The primary (K-3) section comprised 46 players, nearly half of whom were newcomers to rated competition. The top finishers were 2nd-seeded Alexander Qin, with a perfect 5.0, followed by five players with 4.0 points. In tie-break order these were top seed Elora Holland, Vikhram Balagee, Armon Mobasher, Preston Thornily, and Alexander Lay. Special mention should be made of unrated Connor Smith, who led the 3.5-point group to finish 7th in his very first tournament, ahead of Nicholas Medawar and Wyatt Pope. The 10th place trophy was captured by Andy Kong on tie breaks, ahead of nine others who also scored 3 points.

The top primary team was the Blossomwood's own K-3 home team, with 13.5 points, followed by Birmingham's BCC, which garnered 2nd place on tie-breaks over Hampton Cove, both schools ending with 13 points each. The 4th place trophy went to the Horizon Elementary (Madison) squad, who scored 12.5.

The elementary (K-6) section was by far the largest with 66 players, 11 making their tournament debut. Pride of place was hotly contested here, with the top ten players finishing within a half-point spread. The top three earned 4.5 points each: State Grades 4-5 Champion Kayvon Deldar, State K-3 Champion Stephen Adams, and in a surprise, 13th-seeded Jonathan Dummer. Places 4-10 were taken by six players who each scored 4 points: 28th-seeded (!) Forest Dewberry, Charles Li, John Weber, Scott Bozeman, Phillip Wang, Maliha Lubna, and her brother Einaam Alim.

Hampton Cove Elementary took the top team trophy in this section, with 15 points. Jones Valley, Weatherly, and Blossomwood each scored 13.5 to take 2nd through 4th place trophies.

An unusually good turnout in the Open (K-12) and Jr High (K-9) sections allowed them to be paired separately (usually they have to be combined), with the five top section players competing round-robin. The best individual performance by a Jr High player was achieved by Michael Cooper from Madison's Liberty Middle School, with a 5-0 sweep, followed by Pranayraj Kondapally and Thomas Hadden (4 points each), both from Madison's Discovery Middle School. The 4th place trophy was awarded to Patrick Bryant who won on tie breaks over Adib Alam who also scored 3 points.

Only two Jr High teams were represented, Liberty and Discovery. Each scored 12.5 points, but Liberty took the top trophy on tie-breaks.

Tushar Ramesh and Jacob Bryan (both from Discovery) finished 1-2 in the Open section on tie-breaks, each scoring 4 points. The third place trophy was captured by Sabiha Runa (3 points), who attends Huntsville High School. Discovery and Huntsville High were awarded the two Open team trophies, with respective scores of 8 and 5 points.

Organization of this tournament was led by Barbara Bozeman and with the help of Betsy Roberts and many other Blossomwood parents. Tournament direction was provided by Dr. Gerald Larson, ably assisted by volunteers from the Huntsville Chess Club: Jerry Wheeler, Chris Lasky, Don Wade, Dr. Albert Gower, Wally Malmberg, Corbin Holland, Dave Clement, Alex Weiner, and this author.
